

A Gangstas Bitch Pt. 3

Up ahead she saw a shadowy figure in the dim light, she stopped walking, and Malcolm bumped into her from behind. Ra, is that you? Her voice carried. The figured continued walking toward them. Monique couldnt make out who it was, they were wearing a hoodie. Naw honey its not Rasheed and there will be no pussy licking on the hood of the car. Instantly Moniques stomach churned, turning upside down. Inadvertently the shoulder bag fell off her arm as she grabbed Malcolm holding him close. Wwhat do you want. What are you doing here? Monique asked in a shaky voice. I want you bitch! Game said pulling out the gun. The blue steel of the 38. shimmered off the pale light in the garage. Malcolm had his back turned, he couldnt see the gun, when he tried to turn at the sound of the voice Monique covered his face. Game? No! No! What are you doing? Not over no dude, not like this in front of my child. You can have Rasheed; Ill turn around and walk away. Monique said in a quivering voice. Mommy whats wrong? Shhhh nothing baby. Its too late for walking away. Bitch you should have thought about that when tried to steal Rasheed back from me. He really doesnt love you! Game raised her voice. He loves me and youre just a problem that needs to be eradicated and Im going to do it today, right now. So turn around and start walking towards Rasheeds car parked over there. Game gestured pointing with the gun toward the black Lexus a few yards away. Game, Im pregnant, please dont do this. So am I, bitch. But youre not going to be pregnant for long. I can assure you of that. Oh, my god think what youre doing. You and I used to be best friends now youre about to do something youll regret over some dude. Monique frowned with her face etched in fear. Rasheed is not just some dude. If he was, you and I wouldnt be having this conversation, bitch. And trust me when I say I wont regret killing you.

Now move, start walking! Mommy Im scared. I have money, lot of money, some in my bank, in my purse, nearly two thousand dollars and jewelry and expensive clothes, take it and let us go. Oh, Im going to take it, but Im not letting you two go. Now start walking bitch! Monique continued to plead with Game. Huh, take this watch. Its worth nearly forty stacks. Monique waved the watch in front of Game and watched her eyes light up. She was using the watch as a ploy to get Game to come closer; she was going to try her for the gun. It was a long shot but it was all she had. Last time telling you or Im going to start blasting. Start walking. Game shouted looking around she was preparing to shoot Monique right where she stood, defenseless with her child. Instantly Monique knew she was doomed and her motherly instincts kicked in. She reached down and grabbed her son by the shoulders and whispered. Mommy wants you to play a game, I want you to run and hide and dont let nobody find you. You hear me baby. Moniques lips trembled as she struggled to keep a straight face her eyes were brimming with tears as she spoke what could possibly her last words to her child. Mommy I dont wanna This aint no game! Come here little man. Come here Malcolm pulled away from his mother and turned looking at her. He began to walk toward Game. She hid the gun under the hoodie jacket. It was still aimed at Monique who was by then trembling. Come here little man? Game cooed sweetly with what looked like a derange smile on her face. Her right eye noticeably twitched. She reached out for him. Then, suddenly he took off running. You little bastard! Game yelled stomping her feet. A tuft of blond hair fell over her face. Enraged, she rushed over to Monique, shoved her toward the car. Monique nearly stumbled and fell over the luggage, the watch fell out of her hand onto the pavement. They made it to the car. Game opened the truck with the remote, looked over her shoulder, listening. She thought she heard something, car tires.
