

Adrift

When a fleet of one thousand starships flees humanity's last stronghold for a legendary lost colony, calamity strikes: all are destroyed except for the USS Nomad, a scout class vessel crewed by a last minute assembly of cast-offs. But the Nomad has problems of its own: its comms are down, one of its engines has sustained severe damage, and someone, in the midst of the escape, murdered the captain. The surviving crew must find the saboteur and pilot the wounded Nomad to this long lost world if humanity is to survive. But the truth about who's responsible for the failed escape - and the larger invasion - will set everyone aboard further adrift and unable to trust anyone at all...
