

Audiology Workbook

The workbook has activities and questions designed related to concepts and procedures traditionally covered in introductory hearing science and clinical audiology courses. This workbook is designed for undergraduate students in speech and hearing and students beginning graduate studies in audiology. The workbook includes activities such as drawing labeling diagrams, drawing waveforms, calculating frequencies/periods, amplitudes, and phases, interpreting audiograms, speech tests, tympanograms, acoustic reflexes, and auditory brainstem responses. There are also questions to reinforce knowledge about hearing disorders, as well as basic understanding of hearing aids and their fittings.
