

Ultimate Book of Prepping

Not one person on this planet knows exactly what the next disaster will be or even when it will occur. They are happening all over the world very regularly from little floods up to huge disasters that take many lives. Although we may not know when these disasters will occur, there are things that we can do to become better prepared to deal with them when they are here. Even after the disaster, the danger is still present. The government and the media would all have us believe that we are safe, that we are protected and that no matter what, the government can protect us. Well I am sorry but that is pure bull crap. There is only one person who can protect us and our families and that is ourselves. The government dont give a damn about us now so why believe that they will when disaster strikes? You do not have to spend every penny of your money in order to be prepared. Preppers are NOT the crazy fools that the media portrays us to be. We have simply taken the time to learn the skills and the knowledge to protect ourselves and our families when the time comes. Be smart and be prepared. It is only a matter of time.
