

THE FIRST 72: (From Darkness Book One)

When the lights go out, its not just the dark you need to fear: No one actually thought it would happen. You see the preppers on TV and hear people talking about all of the horrible things that could befall our country, but you brush it off and go on with life as usual. Until you wake up one morning and the power is out, vehicles wont start, planes have crashed, gas pumps wont work and people are confused and scared. Then the food and water begin to run out and people go beyond panic and into survival mode. What would you do to protect the ones you love? Follow one family in the 72 hours after an EMP attack, as they fight to reunite and survive as the world collapses around them, descending into chaos.
