

How to get out of the dog house on Fathers Day

My parents were blessed with three high spirited teens. Each year we would try and find the perfect gift for my Dad in hopes that he would not dredge up all of our past indiscretions. We would put our heads together and see what we could get my dad that might get us out of that dog house once and for all, but it never worked. Over the years it just became a tradition and Dad loved telling everyone about our crazy stunts. So here are some of the crazy gifts, cakes and stunts we put him through in our younger and wilder years. Hopefully this will give you some great ideas and a few good laughs along the way.
