

Tales from Indian Country

Standing Stone American Indian Cultural Center is located in the Upper Cumberland region of Tennessee, in the town of Monterey. SSAICC is dedicated to the preservation of the regions indigenous history and heritage. To further that goal, several authors have volunteered their work for this volume. All proceeds are being donated to the SSAICC. The stories feature American Indian protagonists and points of view, set in various regions and time periods. You will find tales of mystery and adventure, and of daily issues. Stories include: Miss Shoshone by Win Blevins The Last Willow Stick on the River by Pamela Rentz The Purification of Jim Barnes by Troy D. Smith Tricksters Song by Christopher Reynaga Play Dead or Die by Rod Miller Shot for a Dog by Cheryl Pierson Massacre Canyon by Wayne D. Dundee Becoming American by Troy D. Smith
